

CYCLING & THE CITY

This year, Art All Day is proud to incorporate a number of local organizations that advocate for the use of bicycles to benefit the community as a whole. Today's event is supported by Trenton Cycling Revolution, Greater Mercer Transportation Management Association, Alan M. Voorhees Transportation Center at Rutgers University, and The Boys & Girls Club Bicycle Exchange.

A specialty stop on this year's Art All Day Map is the Community Outreach Garage in East Trenton. The C.O.G. is a community bike shop created by Trenton Cycling Revolution focused on giving folks the tools they need to access affordable and fun transportation. The C.O.G. offers programs such as:

- Learn-a-Bike: Bike repair classes monthly
- Earn-a-Bike: Volunteer to earn a bicycle
- Pedal it Forward: Kids bike re-homing and bike-pairing for those who need transportation
- Trenton Bike Share: Bicycles that are free for the community to use and return.

PUBLIC ART TOUR

Join Artworks Public Projects Manager Jonathan LANK Conner for a tour of the recently funded Artwalk project. LANK will discuss plans for the space, and visit other public art around the Trenton Transit Center, Artworks and Downtown Trenton. Participants will have the opportunity to provide feedback about what they would like to see as we transform this vital public space in a partnership between Artworks, The City of Trenton, and the State of New Jersey.
